Mrs. Thomas W. Lawson The flowers of this famous and much advertised Carnation are of immense size—from three to four inches in diameter—borne on wonderfully long, strong, stiff, erect stems. Color, a beautiful shade of bright cerise pink, lighting up beautifully under artificial light.

Mrs. E. A. Nelson A pure glistening pink—very early and a good keeper—has scored high wherever exhibited.

Marquise This is an excellent Carnation; color, light silvery pink, its large size, lovely color and freedom of bloom, are making it exceedingly popular.

Dutch Hyacinth Bulbs

DIRECTION FOR CULTURE

FOR GROWING IN POTS.—Plant from October to December, using a light loam mixed with leaf mold and well-decomposed manure. Cover bulbs so that tops will just show, and after watering well, place in a cool, dark place out-of-doors. When the pots are full of roots and the tops have sprouted about an inch, which will be in about six or eight weeks, they may be removed indoors to a sunny situation and plentifully supplied with water at the roots.

FOR GROWING IN GLASSES.—Allow water to just touch base of bulbs, and place in a dark closet or cellar where the temperature is about 50°. Expose gradually to light and sun when glasses are well filled with roots. Change the water as it becomes impure, drawing roots entirely from glass, and rinsing in clean water. Be particular to always keep the water to a level with the base of each bulb.

FOR GROWING IN THE GARDEN.—Bulbs may be planted any time from October to December. They require a light, rich soil, and the crown of the bulb should be three to five inches below the surface, set six inches apart. Where the ground becomes frozen, cover with straw or leaves to the depth of about three inches, removing the covering early in spring.

NAMED HYACINTHS

The single-flowered varieties are generally more effective than the double ones, and usually the former succeed better than the latter in glasses. The double varieties are marked*.

Early Flowering French Roman Hyacinths

This beautiful and very valuable variety, if planted in October and gently forced, will bloom in December, or flowering may be retarded until Christmas by keeping in cool place. The flowers, which are smaller than those of the ordinary hyacinth, are produced in great profusion, each bulb throwing up three or four spikes of delicately scented, clear white blossoms, highly recommended for parlor decoration.

TULIPS

For beauty of form and brilliancy of coloring, Tulips are unequalled. For bedding they are the most popular and effective of all hardy bulbous plants. The most gorgeous effects can be produced by harmonious massing of contrasting colors. For pot culture and forcing for winter cut-flowers they are also invaluable.

CULTURE. The cultural directions given for Hyacinths on page 1 are equally applicable to Tulips, except that the bulbs, being smaller, must not be planted quite so deep.

DARWIN TULIPS.—Darwin Tulips belong to the late flowering section, are destined to be extensively grown for bedding or massing purposes. The flowers are very large, of symmetrical form and are borne on tall strong stems, often two feet high. They surpass in colors and brilliancy anything before known in tulips. The colors are so glowing and bright that in the sunlight the effect is fairly dazzling. They include almost every conceivable color and shade from the daintiest blue to the darkest violet, from the soft rose to the most brilliant red. Finest mixed varieties, 50c per dozen; $3.00 per 100.

If ordered by mail, add 6c per dozen for postage.

It is very easily grown, bears pure white flowers with a lemon or orange cup. The Chinese method is as follows: Fill a bowl, or some similar vessel, with pebbles, in which place the bulb, setting in about one-half its depth, so that it will be held firmly; then fill with water to the top of the pebbles and place in a warm sunny window. THE NEW CARDINAL RASPBERRY

This wonderful berry is a surprise in the fullness of its merits—its great growth, extreme hardiness, and the exceeding productiveness of its choice red, rich, pure flavored berries. The new Cardinal is claimed to grow ten feet high, and bears in proportion. It is not a hybrid, but a result where nature combined its best in one little seed that produced the first Cardinal Raspberry plant; it also germinated that seed in its own way, not as under the care of an expert gardener, who would control the temperature, moisture, sunshine and weeds, but it came up in a neglected clump of Gregg raspberry bushes, and there showed its make-up by growing far above them, and producing its great crop of red berries in contrast to the few Greggs beneath them.

The tree is a strong grower, producing heavy branches, and does not require the care demanded by the French. NE PLUS ULTRA—Tree a rapid, upright grower; leaves rather large; a heavy and regular bearer; nuts large and very long in shape; soft shell; hulls freely.

NONPAREIL—Of a weeping style of growth, smaller foliage than the I. X. L., but still forms a beautiful tree; an extraordinary heavy and regular bearer, with very thin shell, of the Paper-shell type. One of the best.

Rathburn Blackberry

The berries are large, of an intense jet black, very glossy and of permanent color, extra fine quality, with a peculiarly rich aroma, and sufficiently firm to carry well to market. The plant suckers very little; it makes a strong, upright main stem, from which the branches start out long and drooping, and the ends of which root readily in the ground, like Blackcap Raspberries, if covered lightly with soil. It is not a dewberry, as one might suppose from this description, but simply a blackberry with the tip-rooting habit. It forms a compact bush of four to five feet high, with canes much less thorny than other varieties, and yields abundantly. All who want a large blackberry of the highest quality should certainly try this. Price: 25c each; $2.00 per 10.

Strawberry Plants

To cultivate the strawberry for family use, we recommend planting in beds four feet wide, with an alley two feet wide between the beds. These beds will accommodate three rows of plants, which may stand fifteen inches apart each way, and the outside row nine inches from the alley.

The beds can be kept clean easier and the fruit gathered without setting feet upon them. The ground should be well prepared by digging or plowing at least ten or twelve inches deep, and be enriched with well rotted manure, ground bone, wood ashes or any other good fertilizer.

BRANDYWINE—Plant a luxuriant grower, healthy and hardy and very productive. Fruit very large, of good form, bright red all over, and of good quality.

DOLLAR—Very early, large size, crimson in color, and possesses an exquisite flavor; a fine shipper; is a beautiful grower, with heavy, dark-green leaves, which protect the blossoms from frosts and late spring rains. It yields a large second crop in many localities, and is enormously productive.

EXCELSIOR—Berries large long, conical, or pointed, round, conical in form and a bright scarlet in color. The flesh is bright, juicy; of fair quality and firm. Plants vigorous and healthy in growth and foliage; ripens early.

GANDY—A cross between Jersey Queen and Glendale, combining the size, beauty, high quality, firmness, vigor and lateness of these two excellent varieties. Is prolific in bearing, and in vigor and growth has no superior.

GLOVER STRAWBERRY—This is the great market strawberry of Colorado, and occupies the same position there in the strawberry world that the Dollar berry does in California. It is a heavy, wedge-shaped berry, much larger than the Sharpless, with dark green foliage. An enormous cropper of the largest sized berries. Price: 50c per 10; $3.00 per 100.

MONARCH OF THE WEST—Very large; firm; productive; pale red; excellent quality; strong plant with stout fruit stems, holding the fruit well up from the ground.

THE LOGAN BERRY

This is a seedling from the Aughinbaugh Blackberry, a wild variety, pistillate, of California, crossed or fertilized by pollen of the Antwerp Raspberry. The plants are described as unlike either the raspberry or blackberry, and are of low-growing habit, more like the dewberry, of very large, strong canes or vines, without thorns, but have very fine soft pines, like those found on raspberry plants. Leaves of dark green color, coarse and thick, more like those of the raspberry than the blackberry. The fruit is as large as the largest-size blackberry, is of the same shape, with globules similar to that fruit. Color, when fully ripe, a dark rich red. It partakes of both flavors of the raspberry and blackberry, being a combination of the two mixed, a very pleasant, mild vinous flavor, delightful to the taste, not found in any other fruit, but peculiar to this alone. It is excellent for the table, eaten fresh or cooked, and for jellies or jams without an equal. The fruit is firm and carries well, seed small and few.
